

Medical, Surgical, and Diagnostic Procedures glossary

Description	Often doctors will recommend procedures for patients. You will research Medical, Surgical, and Diagnostic Procedures pertaining to the Digestive System.
Requirements	Each student must enter information about three procedures related to the digestive system, and comment/add additional information to two posts. Postings must be original; you will not get marks for posting a word that has been posted by another student. The purpose of this is to ensure that you read each other's posts and learn from each other.
Guiding questions for self-assessment	How many postings have you provided? (A minimum of five entries is required for level 4 on the rubric - three original, two replies) Are your entries from different procedures (e.g. medical, surgical, and diagnostic)? (Focusing on different procedures is required for level 4) Did you provide details in your entry such that others will understand and learn from your research? (Level 4 entries reflect comprehensive breadth and depth)
